

MRS. STOKES'S TALK BIG AID TO ENEMY, SAYS PROSECUTOR

Defendant's Lawyer Declares
Correction of Speech
Proved Loyalty.

KANSAS CITY, May 23.—The closing argument for the defense in the trial of Mrs. Rose Pastor Stokes on charges of violating the Espionage Act were made to-day by Attorney Stedman, who declared that the address of Mrs. Stokes before the Women's Dining Club of Kansas City, which was the basis of the charges against her, was intended for mature minds and was theoretical. He pointed out that the testimony had shown Mrs. Stokes was knitting for soldiers just previous to her arrest.

Mrs. Stokes was quoted in a newspaper as having said: "I am with the Government but against the war." Mr. Stedman continued: "This meant, as explained, that she was with the Administration and against enlistments, and that she corrected it by saying she was against the Administration but for the war."

The fact that Mrs. Stokes made the correction, he asserted, showed that she was anxious to counteract the possible effect of her statement on enlistments and recruiting. She could not give unqualified support to all the Government's war aims, he added.

One stands to-day as the most audacious, vicious German propagandist in America," declared Francis M. Wilson, the United States District Attorney in summing up the Government's case. "I do not charge that she is a paid agent of the Kaiser, but I do say she is a frenzied fanatic on social issues."

He denounced the defendant for alleged lack of patriotism and efforts to spread what he termed her disloyal beliefs.

Conviction would carry with it a possible penalty of a fine of not more than $10,000 or twenty years imprisonment or both, on each count.

BAYONETS SAVE LIFE OF Foe OF RED CROSS

Swede Who Cursed Organization
Protected From Crowd by Coast Guards.

The Red Cross was cursed in unprintable language to-day at a noon Third Stamp meeting in front of the Customs House. In the subsequent proceedings the man who did the cursing probably owed his life to the bayonets of the United States Coast Guard Patrol. He was arrested by Army Intelligence officers and the patrol held back the stormy crowd.

The prisoner said he was Charles Holmes, seventy-one years old, a citizen of Sweden although he had lived in America since 1885. When challenged by a uniformed Red Cross worker, Miss Alice E. O'Sullivan of No. 741 St. Nicholas avenue he turned upon her in a fit of rage.

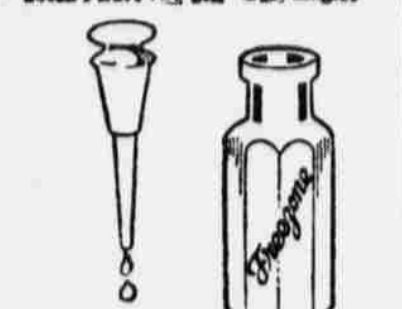

He was taken to the Centre Street Court to be held on a nominal charge of disorderly conduct while the secret service inquires into his antecedents.

LIFT OFF CORNS FREEZONE IS MAGIC

Costs few cents! Sore, touchy corns lift right off with fingers. No pain!

Drop a little Freezone on an achy, sore corn. Instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right off. It doesn't hurt a bit. Yes, magic!

Why wait? Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of Freezone for a few cents, and it rid your feet of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and calluses, without soreness or irritation. Freezone is the much talked of other discovery of a Cleveland genius.

MISS LUSK BARES LOVE FOR DOCTOR AT MURDER TRIAL

Slayer of His Wife Says
Roberts Gave Her Money for Trips.

WAUKESHA, Wis., May 23.—Grace Lusk sacrificed her good name to-day on the witness stand, telling of her love for Dr. David Roberts, whose wife she killed.

Closing her eyes against the staring faces in the courtroom, Miss Lusk admitted trips with Roberts to Chicago and Peoria, Ill. She added to the evidence the Government may use in a Mann Act prosecution against Dr. Roberts by saying: "With the exception of our first two visits to Chicago, he always gave me money with the understanding that it was to pay my railroad fare, hotel bills and for any extra shopping I might want to do."

Dr. Roberts heard her from his seat in the corner of the courtroom near the door. Only an occasional biting of his lower lip disclosed his nervousness.

Miss Lusk wavered under the terrific ordeal, twice reeling in the witness chair and nearly fainting. But she passed through the most dramatic session in the two weeks' trial without other visible evidence.

Miss Lusk began her story yesterday afternoon and sketched her career, one of study and teaching, up to 1913, when she met Dr. Roberts. To-day she testified that Dr. Roberts during the summer of 1914 often took her automobile riding with friends. In the fall and winter she said he called at her office several times a week, bringing her manuscript on a cattle book he was writing, to edit.

In March, 1915, she said, while she was working on Dr. Roberts's manuscript, Roberts leaned over and kissed her. She declared she protested and he kissed her again.

"Later he asked me if I cared for him," she said, "and I told him that no was married. He said that there was no love nor happiness in the hearts of either his wife or himself and that he would like to be free, but could not, as in the eyes of the law she was a model wife. He then asked for my love."

BLINDED ANZAC TELLS HOW RED CROSS AIDED HIM

Lieut. Skehill, Twice Wounded in Gallipoli Campaign, Says He Owes Much to Ministrations.

Tom Skehill, Anzac fighting man, who was blinded by a Prussian bayonet and had his sight restored in Washington after European physicians had pronounced his case hopeless, to-day told 2,000 people at a Red Cross rally in City Hall Park that he is "home-sick for the trenches"—that he is going back to settle his score with the enemy, and that the Red Cross has become so efficient it is "almost a pleasure to get wounded."

"America prepared means Germany defeated," said Skehill. He drew a vivid picture of the Gallipoli campaign, in which he was twice wounded.

"We were unprepared for the defense that was made by the Turks," said Skehill. "We expected to lose about 3,000 men in making landings. Instead, we lost 20,000 the very first day."

"Our transports had lain out at sea a mile beyond the Turkish barrage, so that in the event we were driven into the sea we could be carried to safety. Instead, the transports had to be converted into hospital ships. I went on one. Fifteen hundred wounded men were taken aboard while I was there. The ship was filthy. We had only two surgeons to administer to the 1,500."

The Australian soldier drew another picture of a transport filled with wounded men passing down the Nile to Egypt. The first person to meet the sufferer was a Red Cross Commissioner.

"After our trip on the filthy transport came the sight of the Red Cross nurses with their clean bandages, a pair of pajamas for every man, clean sheets, convalescent robes and last but not least, cigarettes. I have been asked since my arrival here whether it's true that the money contributed to the Red Cross does not go for the purposes intended. Also whether it's true that we had to pay for the things we received from the Red Cross. That, my friends, is pure German propaganda. The Red Cross provides every means for our comfort."

NO NEWS OF O'LEARY.

Counsel Makes Announcement and Case Is Adjourned to May 31.

When Jeremiah O'Leary's case was called before Judge Rufus E. Foster in the United States District Court to-day, O'Leary's counsel reported to the Court that he had no idea as to the whereabouts of his client.

After a short consultation Judge Foster adjourned the case until May 31 and directed all of the witnesses to be present on that date without further subpoenas.

Automobile Belonging to O'Leary
Seized in Newburgh.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., May 23.—An automobile belonging to Jeremiah O'Leary was to-day turned over to Federal agents by local police, who found the machine in a garage here, where they said it was placed May 11 by Dr. Daniel O'Leary, a brother of the fugitive, who resides here. The missing man was last seen in New York May 8. Dr. O'Leary declared another brother, John O'Leary, had driven the car from New York to this city.

75,000 OWNERS PLANNED FOR HOTEL COMMONWEALTH

Twenty-eight Stories High,
With 2,500 Rooms—Will Be Largest in World.

Negotiations have been completed between the Commonwealth Hotel Construction Corporation and the owners of the property comprising the city block between Seventh Avenue and Broadway and 55th Street and 56th Street for the purchase of the site to build the Hotel Commonwealth. The site is valued at $1,000,000. The hotel is to be twenty-eight stories in height and to contain 2,500 rooms. It is planned to raise $15,000,000 from the public to build the hotel.

There are thirty city lots on the site, but the Hotels Rockingham, Thornbury, Sonoma and Van Corlear comprise most of the property. On Broadway, however, are several automobile selling agents. The contracts are now in the hands of the title company. The owners of the hotels are: The Van Corlear, Robert Sterling Clark of the Clark estate; the Hotel Thornbury, the Forty-eighth Street Realty Company; the Sonoma Hotel was purchased through the Derwent Realty Company, and the Rockingham Hotel is controlled by the Mooney estate.

W. J. Hoggson, President of the E. I. Barnett Company, Inc., a firm closely related to the Commonwealth Hotel Construction Corporation and engaged in selling shares for the erection of the new hotel, said that the construction would not start for some time, although he had heard that steel in sufficient quantities would be forthcoming in two months.

When completed, it was learned to-day, the Commonwealth will have 75,000 owners. The Commonwealth will have 500 more rooms than any hotel in the world. The first terrace will be placed at a height of fifty-three feet and used as a roof garden. Each succeeding terrace to the roof will be covered by a hanging garden.

It is planned to have the Commonwealth Club occupy the uppermost floors, where will be found reception rooms, libraries, reading and smoking rooms for the men. A feature will be a gymnasium, squash and handball courts. The largest swimming pool in the United States will be constructed within the hotel. Henry L. Merry, who has been identified with the management of the Hotels McAlpin and Claridge, will operate the hotel.

Three million dollars have already been subscribed. Twenty-five thousand dollars had to be raised before the people back of the enterprise would close the purchase of the site. Construction work on the hotel will begin as soon as 50,000 shares have been subscribed.

GETS NEARLY A YEAR IN JAIL FOR EVADING DRAFT LAW

Cody Wouldn't Fight for Great Britain and Wouldn't Be Examined.

Reuben Cody, twenty-four years old, was convicted of a violation of the Draft Laws and sentenced by Judge Julius M. Mayer in the Federal District Court to-day.

Cody is a British subject by birth. He came to America two and a half years ago and has been living on the upper east side. He registered under the Draft Law about a year ago, but objected to serving because he did not want to fight for Great Britain.

On Jan. 14 he filed his questionnaire. Two days afterward his local board put him in Class A because he had filed no exemption claim. Somewhat later he married and took out his first naturalization papers.

A few days ago he was summoned to appear for physical examination. He refused to submit and was arrested. Assistant United States Attorney R. W. Horn said he thought that this was another advance agent of a new species of propaganda and method of evading the draft law.

Cody pleaded guilty and Judge Meyer sentenced him to eleven months and twenty days in the Federal penitentiary.

Dandruff Soon Ruins The Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you do not.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most all if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails. Adv.

LARGE LIBERTY PLANE TAKES BIG LOAD OF MAIL

Starts for Philadelphia With 625
Pounds—Smaller Companion
Machine Carries 121.

A Liberty aeroplane carried the "Cloudland Mail" to Philadelphia to-day. It was driven by Lieut. Bonnal and is almost double the size of the aerial mail planes in use up to this time. It was accompanied by one of the smaller machines piloted by Lieut. Kilgour of Philadelphia. A Liberty motor furnishes power for the large plane.

At Belmont Park, it was said, the Liberty aeroplane carried approximately 625 pounds of mail and that its companion machine had 121 pounds. Some of this large volume, it was said, did not have aerial mail stamps affixed. Superintendent of Mails Norris of the New York Post Office said he sent to Belmont Park only 154 pounds of mail, which was carried in the Liberty aeroplane. He knew nothing, he said, of any mail in addition. The Liberty aeroplane was assigned to the work by the military authorities on their own initiative, evidently for a test flight, according to information at the park.

FEW WILLING TO TESTIFY AGAINST CONDUCTORETTES

Closer Watch Kept on Resorts Near the Flatbush Avenue
Depot.

The Kings County Grand Jury to-day continued its investigation of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit conductorette situation. Few witnesses were examined since people who are supposed to know about the conditions are averse to appearing voluntarily and are unwilling witnesses when subpoenaed.

District Attorney Lewis succeeded in getting three witnesses as to the character of resorts near the Flatbush depot. It is said that some of these places have permitted indecent exposure in their back rooms, but that since the investigation started last Monday they have kept closer watch on the occupants. One, it is reported, will not allow women to enter them with men.

HEADS OF HOMES EXCHANGE JOBS.

Edward E. McMahon, who for the past twenty-six years has been superintendent of the City Home, Blackwell's Island, to-day exchanged positions with Cornelius Coogrove, Superintendent of the Municipal Lodging House in East 25th Street. No reasons for the transfer were given.

SKELETON HUNG TO TREE.

Jamaica Patriots Show What They Would Do to Kaiser.

Persons passing the Jamaica High School last night were frightened by the sound of creaking bones and a ghastly apparition which loomed out of the darkness, but none cared to investigate. Being forewarned of the theft of a skeleton used for anatomical study in the school, and conducting his search in the broad daylight, a police officer felt no qualms in approaching and recovering a grinning mass of bones hung high in the tallest tree of the school yard. A note attached to the skeleton stated tersely: "This is what we would like to do to the Kaiser."

GETS VERDICT OF $47,196.

Investor in Oil Securities Wins Against Corporation.

William C. Gallagher won a verdict in the Supreme Court to-day for $47,196.35 against H. Lyons Smith, formerly President of the Lincoln Oil, Gas and Coal Company, a Delaware corporation. In April, 1916, Gallagher invested $2,750 in stock of the company, later putting $9,910 more in its securities. Representations were made to him at that time, he testified, that his investment would yield him $17,078. The jury in Justice Phillips' court gave him the full amount and added $170.85 costs. Gallagher lives at Freeport, L. I.

UNITED STATES BOY SCOUT CUTS "SEVENTH REGIMENT"

Agrees With Swann to Drop Name
—Prosecutor Makes Scrutiny
Into Its Expenditures.

Bernard Fry, Ralph Korn and Arthur L. Van Veen, representing the 7th Regiment, United States Boy Scout, signed an agreement yesterday with District Attorney Swann to eliminate the regimental name after Mr. Swann told them he thought the term was misleading. Mr. Swann also asserted he thought the Boy Scouts of America a much worthier organization than the United States Boy Scout. Mr. Swann also talked with Francis Walker Winch, a former employee of the United States Boy Scout, who said the officials, including him, were paid for their work. According to Mr. Swann, Winch said very little of the money collected went to the boys.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics.

Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

MANY a housewife has hesitated to fry fish in her apartment because of the smoke and odor, but with Mazola there is no such objection.

Mazola can be used so hot without burning, that it "crisps" over the fish very quickly—brings it to the table golden brown and delicate, never heavy or greasy. Thousands of American women are using this pure, delicious oil from corn in preference to butter, lard, suet and "frying fats."

For salads Mazola is as good as the best olive oil—and it costs much less.

Mazola is a most delicate shortening—makes rich but digestible cakes and pastry. Being an oil and not a solid fat, Mazola requires no melting. It is ready to use. Quantities can be measured exactly. It saves time—results are always uniform and satisfactory, and there is no waste.

And Mazola saves animal fats.

SAUTED FLOUNDER

Put into a shallow frying pan enough Mazola to cover the bottom, and when hot stir in one-fourth teaspoon salt. Lay the flounder in bone side down and cook carefully until well browned; then turn over and brown in the same manner. Garnish with lemon and serve very hot.

In deep frying, use just enough Mazola to cover the food, and no more. It must be hot enough to form a crust quickly. Fry only a few pieces at a time.

Mazola is always uniform. Its preparation is scientific and exact.

For sale in pints, quarts and gallons. (The large sizes are the most economical to buy.) Get a can from your grocer today.

There is a valuable Cook Book for Mazola users. It shows you how to fry, saute, make dressings and sauces more delicious, make light digestible pastry. Should be in every home. Send for it or ask your grocer. FREE.
